

Anna Carlisle Trustee

"In a relatively short time, South East Dance has made an impact nationally, internationally and throughout the South East region. Future plans for growth and development are dynamic and exciting. I am happy to be associated with this successful organisation and the excellent team who believe that dance makes an important contribution to culture and society."

Anna Carlisle, Dance Artist, was Head of Dance at Lewes College and a Faculty member of LABAN London. She has taught extensively on the national and international circuits with commissions and consultancies in choreography, Laban Studies and Education. She was Director of the national award winning Youth Dance Company, 'First Edition' and is currently Director of 'Phoenix', the new Professional Development Course in Laban Studies at University of London, Royal Holloway College.

Choreographic commissions for 2006 included the Arts Council's BIG DANCE on Brighton beach and Choreographer in Residence for Fluxus Dance Co., Dublin. Research interests and current projects revolve around Dance and Architecture.

Anna was awarded the MBE for Services to Dance in 2002.
