

Kyla Lucking
Head of Community and Learning

Kyla worked on a student placement at South East Dance as part of her BA (Hons) degree in Dance and Culture from the University of Surrey. After graduating she launched her career in London with an Independent Dance Managers Traineeship from London Arts and then toured work internationally as Projects Manager for CUE and Company Manager for Anglo-Belgian Retina Dance Company.

Opportunities then arose to work on dance education projects at Royal Festival Hall, Yorkshire Sculpture Park and Greenwich Dance Agency where Kyla discovered a passionate interest in dance education and community work. She trained as a workshop leader with South East Dance and Retina then went on to teach GCSE and A level dance at BHASVIC College in Brighton later becoming Education Officer at Rambert Dance Company.

In 2005 Kyla moved to Brighton and joined South East Dance as Programme Manager. She was promoted to Head of Community and Learning in 2006. Kyla is passionate about dance and strongly believes that everyone can enjoy and should have the chance to discover dance for themselves!
