

Rowena Price
Marketing Administrator

Rowena has been dancing since she was three. She trained at the Royal Academy of Dance between 2004- 2007, gaining a BA (Hons) in Ballet Education. Since graduating, Rowena has worked as a freelance dance teacher in performing arts and ballet schools in the South East. She was the Choreography and Assistant Stage Manager for a production at the Dorking Halls, entering students for examinations and running drop-in dance classes, working with students aged between 2 and 76.

Rowena joined South East Dance as a volunteer administrator for moving Voices from September - December 2008. During this period she coordinated Fresh Takes and Mobi Movies for the Dance for Camera Festival 2008, and the Government scheme 11 Million Takeover Day, inviting pupils from Brighton and Hove-based schools to 'take over' South East Dance for the day and work alongside staff, take part in workshops and feedback on how the organisation should be run.

Rowena rejoined South East Dance in February 2009 as Interim Office Coordinator and is now thrilled to be taking on the role of Marketing Administrator.

Rowena is passionate about dance and the arts and in her spare time enjoys sports, music and the countryside.
